Sheila, 34

"I had lots of jobs as my husband is in the RAF. We move a lot so I can't really get into anything before we're moving again. I received an NCC brochure through my door and spotted a nail art course, it was ideal, the military wives often get together and I could happily practice on them. I learnt so much and stayed on for the next level of manicure and French nails. The other wives loved it so much the base commander asked if I would open a business on the base. I was scared as I had never done anything like it before. It seemed daunting to be my own boss but then I realised that I had a skill that could move with me whenever my husband is moved."

Karen, 35

I never thought when I started this that I would go as far as I have. I was working for a business that went bust and there wasn't many jobs where I live.

I applied for a course to train as a teaching assistant. On the induction, I nearly got up and left, thinking that I couldn't do it. My teacher talked me back into the classroom telling me I was doing just fine, even though I didn't feel like that. But really I was doing ok.

When I started the course I was offered a job in a school, I really felt like part of the team. I have got really positive relationships with the staff and I have learned all about my responsibilities of working with children. I have even faced my demons; English and Maths. I've been at the school two years now and have worked my way up to be a higher level teaching assistant. I love it."
