

Education Health and Care assessment and planning Independent Support in Northumberland for you and your child

The new system of Education, Health and Care Plans for children and young people with Special Educational Needs (SEN) can seem really confusing.

We can help! Support through the Education, Health and Care needs assessment and planning process is available to young people and their families. It covers new assessments or where a Statement of SEN is being transferred into an Education, Health and Care Plan.

Trained workers known as Independent Supporters can help you to understand the new system and get the most from it. They are independent from the services providing for your child's education, health and/or social care.

- Understand the new system
- Make sure that your child's Education, Health and Care Plan provides them with the right kind of support
- Provide information on personal budgets
- Find out what help is on offer locally
- Give your views at meetings and/or in writing
