David Fellows
General Manager
TT Electronics Bedlington (Welwyn)

With over 20 years' experience in the aerospace and defence industry, I joined TT Electronics Bedlington at the end of 2019, having ran similar manufacturing sites in the north for 5 years previous.

Prior to this I led Business Development and Strategy for a Defence organisation which was a great platform to do business all over the world with government agencies and tier 1 aerospace companies. Having started my career in operations, I quickly moved into project and programme management of engineering products, able to work in a marketplace that I am fascinated by.

Outside of business, I enjoy spending time with my family supporting my two children in various activities and hobbies. I particularly enjoy rugby union, currently providing coaching to under 14's. If time ever permits, I enjoy playing the occasional game of golf and also enjoy flying light aircraft.
