Newbiggin by the Sea has been my home since birth and like most residents, I have seen first-hand the struggles and challenges Newbiggin has faced over the years.

Despite this, I have also witnessed some of the amazing efforts, initiatives, developments, investments, programmes and improvements that have helped make Newbiggin what it is today.

I'm married with two young boys who go to school in Newbiggin. My hobbies and interests include walking, DIY and golf. I work for a global traditional and new energies company as a Continuous Improvement Manager which allows me to follow my passion for helping people solve their problems and improve the way they work.

As there's always room for improvement, I believe the Borderlands Place Programme can provide us with an opportunity to build upon our heritage and improve some of the aspects that makes Newbiggin great.
