

RESIDENTIAL LANDLORD ASSOCIATION
GENERAL DATA PROTECTION REGULATION FOR LANDLORDS AND AGENTS
(ELEARNING)

From May 25th 2018, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will form the new standard by which landlords and agents deal with sensitive personal information for their tenants and clients. It replaces the Data Protection Act and introduces a number of significant changes to the way you should be processing personal information.

Course Content

- What does GDPR mean?
- How it relates to the Data Protection Act
- Definitions of important terminology
- Registering with the Information Commissioner's Office
- Penalties for noncompliance

Objectives

- Understand how GDPR affects you and your business
- Instructions on how to comply and avoid penalties
- How to process information lawfully

This course is suitable for

All landlords and letting agents.

The RLA are currently working with Northumberland County Council to offer this course at a 30% discount for a limited time. If you'd like to take advantage of this offer, you can contact the Private Sector Housing Team on 01670 624526 to access the discount code.

Normal Cost:

RLA member: £24.00

None RLA member: £30.00

Discounted Cost:

RLA member: £16.80

None RLA member: £21.00

You can sign up to the training here:

<https://www.ria.org.uk/landlord/courses/general-data-protection-regulation-online.shtml>