To the Planning Inspector

Please keep the Wannies wild !

My husband and I are in our 70s and deeply feel that the best visitor attraction/ tribute to our Queen would be to name the beautiful hill after her certainly not to have a huge monument which would dominate this wild and spiritual area.

Northumberland is one of the last English places where people can truly feel the loneliness, wonder and utter rugged beauty of hills and dales . Nature is our national monument and solace . Please do not let it be spoilt by a massive man made indulgence which I'm sure the Queen would not want if she knows of the genuine horror at the thought of this possible monument to her Northumbrian subjects!

The Angel of the North is perfectly sited and a wonderful addition to our northern culture but please , please leave our wild Wannies be!

Yours sincerely ,
Rosie and Jim Barrett and family
